Prediction

Number 3 Ruled by Jupiter

Dates Covered Under Ruling No. 3-3, 12, 21 and 30.

Number 3 people are highly ambitious and have strong will power. Patriotic and willing to serve and sacrifice their lives for others, heading big organizations educationists are the kind of people born under 3. Such people are highly upbeat about life are giving souls, always surrounded by people not only because of their charismatic personality but also because they pay heed to other's issues and are always keen to help. These people are religious at heart and follow their rituals very diligently. Family honor and pride is of utmost importance to them and they would not do anything to bring disrepute to anyone. They are loyal partners and expressive to the core. They believe communication is the key to find answers to or resolve issues in life. They have a good social circle as they are good listeners and dependable. The biggest challenge for the number 3 is to recognize this, to learn that the real beauty of life is found not in our possessions or illusions, but rather is hidden inside our fellow human beings. After all, it is being human that allows us the potential to experience what has been called the impossible achievement: to enter the realm where the mortal and the immortal meet. If the 3 can ever defy the odds to achieve this rare and amazing state of being, the fact that it has had to travel so far to reach such a height makes this number uniquely qualified to guide and help others reach the same goal. Example Raghuram Rajan, Sundar Pichai, etc.

Diseases Prone to

Obesity, liver related issues, skin related issues like eczema, scabies or even minor issues like wounds or rashes will take time to heal, jaundice and paralysis.

Relationships

These people are kind hearted, honest in their relationships and believe in communicating their issues to have a healthy love life. They hold their partner in great respect. They respect their elders. Family is extremely important to them; they would not do anything to soil their family pride. The only problem is that since they are so involved in the welfare of people that they would spend less time with their family and loved ones.

Lucky Dates - 3, 12, 21, 30, 9, 18 and 27 are all favourable.

Number 9

Ruled by Mars

Dates Covered under Ruling No. 9- 9, 18 and 27.

These people are compassionate, have a strong will power and are courageous. These people have high levels of energy and are constantly on the go, always doing something or the other and strive for perfection in almost everything they do. They have high demands not only from themselves but also from the people around them. Their nature is best described by the shape of the number; they are reservoir of resources and believe it in disbursing to the needy or less privileged. They are the most aggressive of all the numbers and many resorts to bloodshed or physical means to get their work done. These people try and make the best of the opportunities coming their way. Risk-taking is a way of life for them. They can handle a situation by any means be it diplomatically, or unethical means or argumentatively. A proper way to channelize their excessive energy is to put them in professions like army, police, etc. They have the grit to struggle and succeed, gaining all that they want in life. Nothing can deter them from their path except themselves. They just need to maintain mental balance and nothing can come in their way to success. Example - Kiran Bedi, Akshay Kumar, Yash Chopra, Shashi Tharoor, Rahul Gandhi, Sonia Gandhi, Rajat Sharma, etc. Maestro

Disease Prone to

This number rules over blood, bone marrow, head and the genitals. They can have digestive system troubles like acidity due to presence of excessive fire element. They are prone to surgeries and also problems like piles, blood clots and ulcers. They need to be careful of fire accidents.

Relationship

They have mars energy so they should marry a person with more or less same energy for a happy and successful married life. They will be of immense help in times of need so these people will have many friends. When it comes to spending money on friends and family, they would spend without a second thought. They would want to do something for the benefit of their community or country.

Missing Number

MISSING NUMBER "4"

"DISCIPLINE & ORGANISED"

Such people lack organizational skills, and that is the most important quality they need to cultivate within to lead an enhanced life. Working in set routines with strict norms is a major issue for them and they may turn up late usually. They also have a low self- motivation and seriously need to alter their perspective for life, if they wish to make move ahead towards success. Life becomes easier and better for them, once they develop passion for what they want, and more tolerance and patience.

Repetative Numbers

Repetitive Number 11 - Comparatively much balanced in their approach, people with two Number 1s in their charts find it easy to communicate and express their inner feelings. They have an ability to look at life in an unbiased manner, and are better judges of other people's point of views. This is also considered as the best quantity of Number 1s to have.

It is the first number on the emotional plane, and is often an indicator of a person's intuitiveness and sensitivity.

Repetitive Number 2 - Such people tend to be quite sensitive and intuitive, but can also be easily hurt. Blessed with an uncanny ability and discretion to see through other people's insincerity, these people are naturally good judges of others. The famous astrologer and the Doomsday Naysayer Nostradamus were born with one 2 in his chart.

Placed at the top left-handed position of the chart, at the beginning of the Mental Plane, number 3 is also the final number of the thought row. It is largely related to the intellectual ability of a person, and also to the ability to think clearly, lucidly and rationally. It is also a happy and positive number.

Repetitive Number 3 An excellent memory and a marked creative streak are the prominent gains of people who possess one number 3 in their numerology chart. A positive, yet a practical, realistic approach towards the attainment of their goals and an honest optimism towards life set them apart from others, and even make them a source of inspiration for others. The famous Elvis Presley was born with such a chart.

NUMBER 6

Located right in the centre of the top row, Number 6 relates to creativity and familial and filial love. Such people who have a balanced amount of Number 6 in their charts are usually home lovers, and enjoy their domestic responsibilities.

Repetitive Number 6 - People with one 6 in their numerology chart have a great family, and home love. Obviously, they make excellent parents, and equally good children. They love handling their domestic responsibilities, and they also have a good amount of creative potential. Most often, they are the people in their families to whom everyone wants to come to, when things go awry. However, such people can be quite insecure, and may remain constantly worried about their family members' well-being.

NUMBER 8

An indicator of observation power and astuteness, this number relates to attention to detail.

Repetitive Number 8 - Methodical, fastidious and immaculate about details, people with one Number 8 in their Numerology chart have restless, active minds that crave mental challenges. However, on the flip-side, these people often find it difficult to finish the tasks they, very enthusiastically, had initiated.

NUMBER 9

It's obvious that everyone born in this century has at least one 9 in his/her chart. This number is good and is humanitarian. It represents idealism, courage, ambition and self-belief. The Number 9 is on both the mental plane and the action line. And it is one of the reasons that humankind has made such giant strides of development in the present century.

Repetitive Number 9 - Possessing a strong, marked desire for self-improvement, people with one 9 in their Numerology chart are quite ambitious. All the people alive today have at least one 9, and it's undeniably true that we all have much more humanity inside us than we tend to express. An important lesson from this fact we can derive is that even numbers favour humanitarian tasks, and we all need to re-learn and nurture this philanthropic side of ours.

Personal Year 2024

PERSONAL YEAR 8

It's a power year. This is the time to focus on health, finances and personal power. This is the first year of a three-year "push" time. This is the start to a period of intensity focusing first on your health, finance and personal sense of empowerment. Next year is the end of a cycle and the year after will be the start of a new cycle. So, this year is setting the groundwork. It's a testing year-you will be tested first and foremost in the realm of personal empowerment. Meaning, you will need to stand up for yourself in a strong yet heart-centered way. Time to hit the ground running and focus your actions and energies on creating the financial abundance you want. It's a year where you can experience big financial ups and downs, so be prepared to tap into your resilience. You'll be in work overdrive and also be handed opportunities testing your personal power. Not once. Not twice. But over and over again all year long. The energy of the 8 is an amplifier-it amps up whatever it comes in contact with so take extra care to clean up your thoughts and follow up your intentions with action. This is truly a time to get laser-focused about what you want and how you want to get there. Get ready for a marathon because your 8 Personal years can present itself as your rather strict personal trainer who has your best interest at heart, even though it doesn't feel like it! When you're done with the year, you'll be ripped, strong, and in the best shape of your life if you follow your trainer's program. Remember to take breaks and pace yourself so your health doesn't suffer. Otherwise, you're bound to experience burn out. This energy is truly intense and will bring up very real, deep issues related to your sense of empowerment and demand that you deal with them. Remember that the energy this year, next, and the year after is focused on empowerment, transformation, and then new beginnings. This is often a career-focused time and yet relationships of all kinds come under scrutiny this year insofar as where you're empowered and where you're disempowered. Is there an imbalance in your relationships-either intimate, family or work-related? Are you a bully, enabler, or dominating? Or are you submissive, docile, and acquiescing? This is a time where healthy balance will become priority. The energy of the 8 demands that you step up or get stepped on. It also challenges you to become the "CEO" of your life while also maintaining your humanity.

Personal Year 2025

PERSONAL YEAR 9

This is the end of a nine-year cycle. It's a year of completion and letting go of the old to make space for change. This change can be somewhat dramatic and tumultuous- affecting possessions, relationships, jobs, geographical location, spirituality and health. It's all under review this year.

This is the year that's inviting you (oh, let's be honest, it's forcing you) to move on to an even more expansive cycle in your life if you choose to let go and allow what's no longer serving you to fall away.

Don't despair at all the "heaviness"-this is also a year where you can revel in the successful culmination of all that you've been working toward for the past eight years. It's a time where your dreams can manifest almost instantly if you're ready to let go of everything that's no longer serving your best interests.

It's going to be a matter of evaluating what's finished and no longer serving a positive function and then moving forward without a net. You know people who are in a marriage or a relationship that's over with and yet they won't get a divorce or break up with their partner until they have another love interest waiting in the wings? Well, metaphorically speaking, the 9 Personal Year won't allow you to do that. You must break it off and then manage and master that empty space of nothingness for a while.

Needless to say, even the best of us is scared silly when it comes to change. And then to change something without knowing exactly what's next? What?! Yet that's what's required this year.

Some of the punctuation marks that can be the centerpiece of a 9 Personal Year can be divorce, health crises, getting fired or let go from your job, career change, geographical move, death of a close friend or family member, or other loss that holds a greater magnitude than usual.

This can also be the time when a child is born or leaves home, when retirement becomes official, when you graduate, or experience other life-changers. I had a participant in a workshop who was halfway into her 9 Personal Year. When we were all discussing how our years were going, we turned to her and braced for the expected barrage of emotionally devastating and confusing changes. Yet she said: "This is the best year of my life! I finally got a divorce, my son graduated college and has a job, I quit my job and moved to a different city. I have no idea what's next but I've been waiting for this for a long time." If you can take this signal and embrace the change and uncertainty of the 9 Personal Year it can prove to be an empowering and energizing time in your life.

Personal Year 2026

PERSONAL YEAR 1

This is a year of new beginnings, independence and achievement. It holds more clarity than last year and is the start of a new nine-year cycle. It is time to plant the seeds for what you want to see grow and mature during the next nine-year cycle. Do not waste in non-priority activities or useless relationships. It can be a somewhat lonely year with feelings that a lot rests on your shoulders and only you can get it done-without help from others.

This is the year to begin with as much of a clean slate as you possibly can. If any unfinished business is left over from your transitional 9 Personal Year, those "loose ends" will need to be concluded before you can fully engage in the magic of the initiating energy of the 1. You'll be challenged with stepping into your individuality and fully manifesting your independence. The more you can connect with the unique off-the-beaten path aspects of yourself, the more successful you'll be.

Know there will be failures, yet the year's designed to teach you some accelerated lessons in self-esteem, trusting yourself and trusting your creativity. The 1 Personal Year is often a career-driven time where you'll be challenged to make substantial advances in this arena of your life. This is a rather hard-driving time where you'll be working intensely on getting your ducks in a row and following up with action, action and more action.

This is a time where relationships can flourish and yet often take a back seat to other matters-particularly career advancement. The theme for you and relationships resides in finding your sense of independence and individuality within your relationships in a balanced and healthy way. It's a year where you'll be met with opportunities to define and create your independence on all levels-when you'll be tested with relationships that are trap, - dependent or where you are the "enabler" or the "enable." You'll benefit from the initiating energy of the year when you focus with clarity on longer-range goals while also being nimble enough to take some calculated risks and tap into your pioneering spirit.

Front Name Prediction

Number 20

Ruling planet - Moon

Contributing planet/s - Moon

Those having name number 20 are calm and peaceful. These people have a very powerful imagination, are sympathetic and would go to any extent to help the needy. In short, they can term as 'divine soul' sent for this particular purpose (of awakening the society). This isn't a material number so success on the worldly front isn't there. If such people are selfish, they will put themselves and people all around them into trouble. If such a person takes the spiritual path, life runs very smoothly. Delays and obstacles can be one of the characteristics associated with these people but that can overcome by practicing meditation.

For business

This number is good for religious organizations and meditation centres.

Full Name Prediction

Number 74

Ruling planet - Moon

Contributing planets - Ketu & Rahu

Rahu & Ketu both influence this number and they are poles apart. Ketu makes one deeply religious, spiritual and Rahu breaks all conventional methods and wants to take up the most unconventional route. This number for self-destruction because their own actions become the reason for their downfall. 7 & 4 are already treading on different paths with one preaching religion and other preaching against the usual. To add to it, moon which adds to fickle mindedness, it is a number full of chaos. They worry more than what the situation warrants. Regretting the past and anxious about the future, they spoil their present. Finances are in bad shape, family life is troubled, and health issues keep bothering. Not a good name numerology number to have expected for hermits and priests.

For business
